COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 31.—Gov. Davis headed warnings that a catastrophe is in the offing, as trying the groundwork today for a stopgap legislation to avert a crisis in the care of Ohio's 1,100,000 needy.

Legislative action will be sought at a special session in September, he said, and he urged the state to provide relief for 50,000 destitute families after Nov. 1.

Relief officials advised the governor that the federal government expects to place directly on the state the burden of providing direct relief after Nov. 1, when it expects to have its relief program in full swing.

Gov. Davis, however, informed the executive committee of the state relief commission that he expects to have his relief program in full swing.

He said that the state relief commission is now in a critical position, and that he expects to have his relief program in full swing.

FAREWELL IS HELD FOR MARION PASTOR

Nearly 300 Attend Party at Baptist Church for Rev. Porter and Family

Between 250 and 300 members of Marion Baptist church and friends of Rev. J. P. Porter and Mrs. Porter, attended a farewell party given in their honor last night at the church. Rev. Porter, who recently resigned as pastor of the church and his family will leave Monday for Williams, Ky. where Rev. Porter will enter a new church.

The farewell program arranged under the auspices of the board of deacons included a talk by Emerson Russell who is now settled with the Pineville Baptist church. The program also included a play by the church choir, "The Last Days of Pompeii," written by Mrs. Russell. The play included several scenes relative to the departure of the pastor and his wife to which they responded with original verses and short talks.

Rev. Porter was presented a purse of money from his congregation and members of the church. The church choir presented him with a traveling bag. Other gifts were received by members of the family. A farewell prayer by Rev. Porter was followed by a benediction.
